Happy New Year everyone and welcome to the Ready2Ride Cycling 2018 training season!

We have a lot to take advantage of this year. I am going to start the year off with a few of the important dates and events in preparation for the Ready2Ride Cycling Season. Many, and above, the calendar for the upcoming season and the dates mentioned. Keep your eyes open, and check in on regularly as the day, more will open as dates for the season and events have been confirmed. We may also get up as well!

I have also included for the team to know as well, just going to.

2018 Ready2Ride Cycling Focus on Events

Our training and the schedule of upcoming rides and a 12 week calendar from 12 to May 31, we have a fixed race week. The rides and focus are a mixed bag of road and off-road, depending on the time of the year. Each week will be listed in the Training Calendar and updated. There is no "do it late" in cycling.

From the beginning of the season upcoming weeks, we offer our beginner rides (Tier 1) to April 30 to make sure we are not too late to sign up for the events that we are going to race. Please note, we have the rides on the calendar, and we will be adding more rides as we get closer to the season. Please check the calendar regularly for updates. Also, please note that the rides are subject to change. Please keep in touch with us if you plan to ride. We will be communicating with you via email as well. We have a lot of fun, great times and memories to be made, and we want to be sure that we are keeping track.

The beginner rides are for those riders or those who are... We have also scheduled a few more rides for the more experienced riders. Some rides are more challenging than others, and we will be sure to let you know what to expect. The rides are for those who are looking to ride. They will be a lot of fun, and we are looking forward to it. Please note, we have scheduled our rides for 2018 and we have made some changes to the schedule. The rides are now on the 2nd and 4th Saturday of the month. We have also added a few more rides to the schedule. We have also added a few more rides to the schedule.
